

Contents

List of contributors	viii
Forewords	xi
Professor Sheena Reilly, Australia
Professor Pam Enderby, United Kingdom
About the editors	xiv
Acknowledgements	xv
Section One: Understanding EBP	1
1 Purpose of this book	3
Hazel Roddam and Jemma Skeat
2 What does EBP mean to speech and language therapists?	9
Hazel Roddam and Jemma Skeat
3 What are the barriers to EBP in speech and language therapy?	16
Jemma Skeat and Hazel Roddam
Section Two: Developing knowledge and skills for EBP	25
4 Teaching undergraduates to become critical and effective clinicians	27
Bea Spek, The Netherlands
5 Promoting clinical effectiveness with postgraduate students	36
Paula Leslie and James L. Coyle, United States
6 Clinical effectiveness: not just a journal club	43
Satty Boyes and Gina Sutcliffe, United Kingdom
7 Using evidence-based practice in supervision	51
Hannah Crawford, United Kingdom
8 Meeting skill gaps and training needs (commentary on Section Two)	59
Hazel Roddam and Jemma Skeat

Section Three: Creating a supportive context for EBP	63
9 The role of leadership in creating evidence-based services Karen Davies, United Kingdom	65
10 Supporting staff to balance caseload demands Sean Pert, United Kingdom	72
11 A model of clinician-researcher collaboration in a community setting Parimala Raghavendra, Australia	79
12 Valuing evidence-based practice in the clinical setting – a showcase event Siân E. Davies and Tracey C. Dean, United Kingdom	87
13 Launching and sustaining an evidence-based highly specialist service Sheena Round and Sarah Beazley, United Kingdom	94
14 Strategic approaches to promoting the value of EBP (commentary on Section Three) Hazel Roddam and Jemma Skeat	101
Section Four: Making the evidence work for us	105
15 The importance of listening to the views of clients Pirkko Rautakoski, Finland	107
16 Developing evidence-based clinical resources Russell Thomas Cross, United States	114
17 Creating evidence-based policy to facilitate evidence-based practice Angie Dobbrick, Australia	122
18 Building and supporting a multi-stream clinical evidence-based practice Network Tracy Kelly, Rachel Miles Kingma and Rachelle Robinson, Australia	129
19 Equipping ourselves as evidence-based practitioners: tools and resources for EBP (commentary on Section Four) Jemma Skeat and Hazel Roddam	139
Section Five: Applying evidence to meet clinical challenges	143
20 A community-based project in rural Sri Lanka Shalini Felicity Gomez, Sri Lanka	145
21 Supporting communicative participation for children with complex communication needs: how the evidence contributes to the journey Angela Guidera, Catherine Olsson and Parimala Raghavendra, Australia	151
22 Evidence-based diagnosis of speech, language and swallowing following paediatric stroke Angela Morgan, Australia	157
23 Working with a dysfluent three-year-old from a bilingual family Patricia Oksenberg, France	163

24	Supporting parents and teachers in managing autism: an example of an evidence-informed model for assessment and intervention Anneli Yliherva, Finland	168
25	Communication therapy on the Stroke Care Unit Daniel De Stefanis and Gracie Tomolo, Australia	174
26	Working with psychogenic dysphonia Beth Higginbottom and Linda House, United Kingdom	179
27	Implementation of a free fluid protocol in an aged care facility Amanda Scott and Leora Benjamin, Australia	184
28	Prosody intervention for children Christina Samuelsson, Sweden	189
29	Supporting evidence-based practice for students on placement: making management decisions for two clients with Down Syndrome Ruth Miller, United Kingdom	195
30	Bridging the research–clinical divide through postgraduate research training Georgia D. Bertou, Greece	201
31	Many roads lead to EBP (commentary on Section Five) Jemma Skeat and Hazel Roddam	206
	Section Six: Future directions for EBP in speech and language therapy	211
32	Wider consultation on embedding EBP in SLT practice Hazel Roddam and Jemma Skeat	213
33	The role of reflective practice in supporting EBP Jemma Skeat and Hazel Roddam	222
34	Embedding EBP: future directions Hazel Roddam and Jemma Skeat	230
	Index	232